The fight is not for wages, but for or lation must bow to the will of the greater "combine," or else the greater combine will have to give up its nonunion Members of the advisory board of Amalgamated Association declare that association has a surprise in store for the combine. "We have not been idle during the first half of the present year." said one. "We have strong lodge organizations | far. in several nonunion plants, in which the combine imagines it has absolute control. We are in better shape for a strike than we ever were before. Our membership it has been in years and our treasury has a publi larger defense fund than we ever had in our history. The question of signing for all mills must be settled this year. Next

Added interest was given the strike situation to-day, when it became known that the two mills in dispute, which were the cause of disagreement between the Amalgamated Association and the American heet Steel Company, were claimed by ooth parties. These mills are the Old Meadows at Scottdale and the Saltsburg mill. The officials, who refused to sign the rule union scale, seem as much surprised at the claims of President Shaffer that the mills were union as the president seemed to be that they should take a view oppor site from him. The sheet steel officials appeared to have a trifle the better of the irgument to-day when word came from ottdale that the men now working there refused to quit, scale or no scale, association or no association. Speaking of conditions of Scottdale, John Jarrett, secretary of the labor bureau of the sheet steel company, said to-day: "The Amalgamated people have no claim to the Meadows and Saltsburg mills. The men, particularly in Scottdale, are working under personal agreements with us. These agreements have been extended to

Mr. Jarrett does not think there will be a strike. A well-known independent sheet steel manufacturer stated to-day that indications pointed to a peaceful settlement of the trouble. He stated: "President Shafof the Amalgamated Association, nows the men at Scottdale and at Saltsburg voluntarily asked the sheet steel management to give them a share of the work pany, and at the terms of the company or at any terms. The workers also proposed an individual contract, which, in the case in the wage agreements is that the mill mmittee is done away with, and that the wage rate does not advance until the wage entitle the organized mills to a 5 per cent. | th rance in wages the mills working under the individual contract system will receive no advance. It is not likely that under this agreement the Scottdale mill workers

At the offices of the American Steel Hoop Company it was stated that certain plants of the company were closed this week for eded repairs and the national holiday. Others were at work, as usual President Shaffer said this evening that his determination to carry the interests of the Amalgamated Association to a successful finish is unabated.
